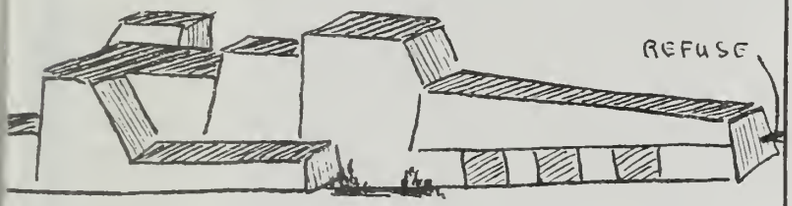
fueled by waste gathered from all of Southeastern Massachusetts from a circle including Boston, Providence, Cape Cod and the Islands. On Wednesday, November 9, Rochester officials were given a presentation of the plans for the plant which will occupy 10 acres of the 100 acre industrial park and employ 100 people to operate it.



MODEL OF BALTIMORE PLANT - SKETCH

Chairman Julia Enroth of the Rochester Board of Selectmen outlined the economic impact for the town. She explained that Rochester now has a tax rate of $73.50 on an assessed valuation of 15 million. The proposed $50 million plant would add 22 million dollars of assessed valuation for a total of 37 million and lower the tax rate by at least half. She said that if Rochester had the plant in operation at present the tax rate would be $29.83.

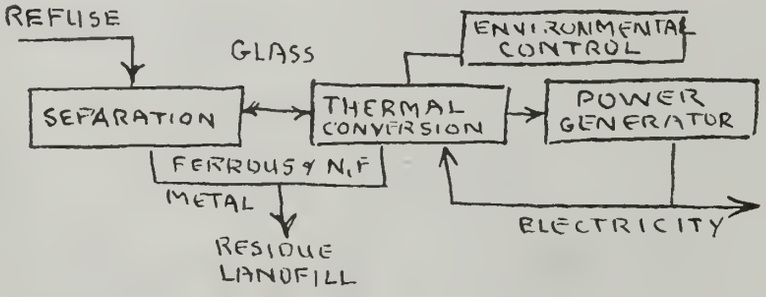
The proposed plant was described as a forward looking project which directly meets two present day problems and solves them at the same time that it is the nucleus of Rochester's Industrial Park. The plant would be a completely closed facility which takes in the solid waste from 75 25-ton load closed trucks. 1500 to 1600 tons of waste from Southeastern Massachusetts would be brought to the plant via interstate highway and Route 28. The waste would be taken directly into the plant for unloading on the feeding conveyors. The plant would be using 2 conveyors with one more held in reserve to maintain operation at all times. One hundred percent reliability would be built in to guarantee the generation of power. The steam turbines would produce 25 megawatts of electricity per day. The ash produced would be approximately 10% of the volume of the original waste and this ash would be disposed of in a sanitary landfill, the location of which is yet to be determined. Even the ash may eventually prove valuable it was stated.

PRODUCTION CHAIN CHART



The plant itself would be designed to be smokeless, odorless and consistently under E.P.A. standards. It was described as the cleanest method to produce electric power. From the exterior, the observer would not be aware that the plant was in operation. The chain of operation would be from conveyor to separation (of glass, ferrous and non-ferrous metal). The combustible waste would proceed to a thermal conversion step. The heated waste would produce gases. These gases would be combined with air and burned to produce the power. The smoke would go through environmental control treatment to remove impurities. The steam produced would be fed into the turbines to produce electricity. Part of the electric power produced would return to power the plant and the rest would be sold to the Massachusetts Wholesale Electric Company with a line only 2,000 feet away from the site of the plant.

Both Anthony and Judy Mark say they like banking with us because of the many, many services we provide and the way we treat them.

Whether they bank inside, or outside at one of our drive-up windows, doesn't matter. The Marks, like so many of our customers, would rather take a few minutes longer to drive to our place than bank at several others closer to home.

The way we see it — just like the Marks of Fairhaven — there are banks and there is our bank.

firms, explained the technical aspects of the project. Both firms display impressive credentials in this type of engineering. Hal Gordy of Teledyne said his company is strong and stable with a background in gasoline and diesel engineering, industrial machinery and geophysical machinery. He said his firm will engineer the plant and would operate the project for 20 years or more. John Savage, representing Envirotech, described his company as multinational with expertise in pollution control and earth resources. Envirotech will be concerned with the pollution control engineering on the project. The company is now conducting the feasibility study which will take 3 to 6 months to complete. Richard Ball of Metcalf & Eddy, Boston engineering firm, spoke on the plans to minimize any possible adverse effects on the local scene through local control and contact with all the local Boards concerned as well as the Massachusetts environmental boards. John Marino, Commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Commerce & Development, spoke highly of the project and said that Rochester should feel fortunate that it can accommodate the plant. He has followed the proposal for 18 months, he said, and feels this concept must be followed to solve the problems of the country in both waste disposal and energy production. Conducting the session was Frederick W. Underhill, Rochester Growth Policy Committee Chairman, and Carmen Chevie, head of the Environmental Energy Corp., which will develop the Rochester Industrial Park under the name of Wayne Industrial Park. Mr. Chevie said Rochester was selected because it is the hub of 4 major markets - Boston, Providence, Cape Cod and the Islands. This was determined in a 1974 survey. He said the project is wholly private enterprise to be financed by bond issue to be sold by Environmental Energy Corp. He said the project is proceeding well with needed feasibility and environmental studies.

The plant, if everything proceeds on schedule, is expected to be in operation by the mid 1980's.

Questioners were answered very fully and learned:

That trucks will not proceed through Rochester but will use Route 28 to the park.

That 100 people will be employed to run the plant and every effort will be made to employ and train local residents (95% of a Baltimore plant employees are from that community).

That a 100% reliability will be built into the plant to guarantee an uninterrupted flow of generated power. Alternate fuel will be on hand to guarantee 25 megawatts of power.

That the source of electricity is expected to attract other industry to the park.

That water will be utilized in the environmental control scrubber if a source can be located.

That town officials have given thought to the fact that the lower tax rate will make Rochester an attractive place to live and spur development of homes.

Chairman Enroth said that every avenue will be used to protect the town from too rapid and undesirable growth. She said that laws on the books will be utilized to this end. She said that an article may be placed in the next town warrant in January to seek approval of a Developing Financing Authority. This would enable the town to make available to industry the advantage of a better rate on bonds by application through the town authority.

Representative William MacLean spoke at the conclusion of the meeting. He said that he will shortly be Rochester's representative in the State House and is very interested in the project and will extend any help that his office can give.

Successful Walk-a-thon

William P. Fillebrown, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Rochester, stepped into the pulpit Sunday assisted by a gnarled walking stick he had put to good use on Friday. He announced a most successful Walk-A-Thon on Friday. The minister told the parishioners that $950. was raised in mileage pledges to benefit the church's Restoration Fund. Six people, Mr. Fillebrown among them, walked a full 20 miles over the course, with many others in lesser mileages. Those walking included many generations some as youthful as 3 and 4 years old.

AUTO REBUILDING HEARING

A public hearing was held on the application of Ronald E. Scott for a Class B Junk Dealers license which is required by the town to enable the rebuilding of damaged vehicles. The by-law adopted by the last town meeting limits the operation to one unlicensed car at any one time with another on the spot to accomplish the transfer of parts. Mr. Scott d/b/a Ronald E. Scott Welding & Repair is in operation in a large shed on the Dennis Mahoney & Sons, Inc. yard located off Route 6. The business holds a Class 2 license to sell used cars. The primary business is welding and general auto repair. Scott said that rebuilding is done when there is a lull in the regular business. He said that he has been told he needs a Class 3 junk license to do even a motor change from one car to another something he has done for the past 15 years in Mattapoisett under cover inside a building.

Chairman Blasdale explained that the Class 3 junk license is a misleading designation in that it does not permit a junk yard operation which is expressly forbidden in the town's zoning by-law. The term must be used because that is how Massachusetts state law designates it.

Twelve abuttors and others attended the hearing. The majority was concerned with the connotation of junk and the deterioration of property value because of the business location. Mr. Orum R. Kerst feared that his property which adjoins the Mahoney yard would suffer loss of value. He said up to now the town has been the major offender in spoiling his property value in the building of a parking lot left unfinished and unsightly by bush removal. Other neighbors complained of noise and traffic. Mr. Scott said that some of the noise might be because he let the rescue squad practice outside his building on weekends with the jaws of life tool. He said that he sometimes has to work seven days a week. Chairman Blasdale explained that noise could not be regulated because the town has no authority to do so. He said that the Board of Selectmen tries to limit noise by setting hours of operation to minimize the effect. Jarvis Stratton, representing the Plymouth Home National Bank, another abuttor, said that he did not believe the bank would object to the rebuilding of one car at a time. They were concerned, he stated, because of the "junk dealer" implication.

Carrier Safety

The Mattapoisett Woman's Club salutes Neil Sanford, this week's Carrier-In-the-Spotlight. Neil is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sanford of Mattapoisett Neck Road. Woman's Club Safety spotters report that Neil conscientiously wears his vest while delivering the Standard-Times to 46 customers on the long stretch of Mattapoisett Neck Road and the West Hill area. Neil has been delivering papers for 4 years and says he has a good route and good customers. The biggest problems he encounters are that sometimes he is short a paper or two or that a customer will forget to pay for a few weeks.

Neil is a ninth grader at ORRHS and most enjoys sailing and playing hockey. For years Neil's parents have pointed out the difficulty motorists have seeing bicylists and held November 1 at the Center's headquarters, 335 Wareham Road. A generous check was presented to Mrs. Dorothy Matthews, Center director, by raffle co-chairmen Lee Vulgaris and Jack Musser, both of Mattapoisett. The first prize, a $100 meat certificate, was won by Mrs. Marion Hartshorn of Marion. Allen Ashley of Fairhaven was the winner of a $50 meat certificate.

Marion Center for Human Services is a state chartered, non-profit organization initially providing Marion, Mattapoisett, Rochester, and surrounding communities with a full range of services in the field of alcohol and alcohol-related problems, as well as in other areas of human needs. The services involved include educational programs, one to one, and family counseling, study groups, workshops and a Youth Dynamics group. The Center also provides a referral service in cases which require specialized treatment. A total of 141 people ranging in age from teenage to 60 plus are presently in active counseling at the Center. In the 19 months MCHS has been in operation over 300 people have received assistance.

Working with Mr. Vulgaris and Mr. Musser on the raffle were Mrs. Frederic Bacon of Marion, secretary of the "Friends"; and Mrs. Joseph Sullivan of Mattapoisett, treasurer. Also serving on the committee were the Mmes. T. Frank Galvin, Thelma Ostenfeld, Norman Converse, James Arne, James Hitchcock, Georgiana Fisher, and Sylvia Garcia, all of Marion. Space for a ticket sales station was provided by Heuberger's Meats of Mattapoisett. Personal contacts were made by many people interested in the Center.

A spokesperson for the "Friends of the Center" reported that "exciting future projects are already in the planning stages" and added that the group is seeking additional volunteers from surrounding communities to "ensure greater success" in expanding the scope of fund-raising activities to benefit the Marion Center for Human Services. Any persons interested in helping with future projects conducted by the "Friends" are asked to call 748-2850.

DUFF PLUMBING ANNOUNCES

We have added another truck to our fleet expressly for the Marion, Wareham & Rochester area residents. We have had such an increase in calls that we have decided to install a direct, toll-free "'Hot Line" for these customers. We have our plumber, Chet, who is a local resident and knows the area well. He will have a well-stocked supply of plumbing needs right at hand.

Are you disappointed to find yourself waiting two days for a plumber, then have him arrive with a helper to carry the tool box, and receive a bill for two men? We pride ourselves on sending one man on service calls.

We take good care of our old customers; it is new customers we are looking for.

Youth Hockey

NEWS: Would you like to support one of the finer hockey programs in the area? Even if you do not skate or do not have anyone who participates you will be missing out on a fun-filled evening, Friday, November 18. This dance is being held to take the dull part out of the first part of November. From 8 to 12 midnight at St. Anthony's Church Hall the 'Trade Winds' will be the band, with refreshments, raffles, door prizes and the way it looks from here even what may resemble a 'Chinese Fire Drill' when things really get going. Tickets will be sold at the door with hopes that folks from Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester will support this event. Talking about support, Rochester Youth Hockey has 3 sponsors with the rest of the teams almost committed. The Rochester Black Bears will now be known as the Rochester New Design, Inc. This team is in the Squirt Division. In the Peewee Division the Rochester Bruins will now be Rochester Mattapoisett Pharmacy, and the Bears will be Rochester Joe's Arco. RYHA would like to thank these busi-

"Blithe Spirit"

SPIRIT MOVED...BUT NOT TOO BLITHELY!

Postponement of the Marion Art Center's production of Blithe Spirit is announced by the show's director. Production was scheduled to open on the 18th. However, production and personnel changes in the cast have caused still another one. The new opening date is firm and unchangeable, no matter what the "poltergeists and spirits" do. "I was beginning to believe that Madame Arcati, played by Kay Sweeney, really called in some mischief from the 'Spirit World'", said Director Gaucher. Greg Senf will be playing the part of Charles, the be-spirited husband of Ruth (alive and played by Joan Olsen) and of Elvira (a ghost and played by Karen Chase). Mary Alice Sylvia continues in her role as Mrs. Bradman and Mary Carol Sanz is Edith the maid and "Natural". Christmas Bazaar

Crisp days, frosty nights, leafless trees and fires burning in wood stoves and fireplaces turn our thoughts to the holidays ahead. Wisps of smoke curling from the chimney bring forth nostalgic visions of homemade goodies and dreams of a white Christmas. As you are daydreaming and reminiscing, countless hands and nimble fingers are getting ready for the Christmas Bazaar at St. Anthony's Church.

The Bazaar will have the following booths: a bake table, a children's corner, an apron table, jewelry, a handknit table, a table with greens and decorations, and a corner with attic treasures. While you shop and browse, coffee and donuts will be available in the A.M. A delicious luncheon by Mary Hillman will be served at noontime.

There will be several raffles. An expertly

The second edition of the "Parish Cookbook" will be on sale at the Bazaar. Last year it was a complete sellout. For all the disappointed people now is your chance to obtain a copy of the fabulous cookbook. To reserve one in advance please call Kathleen Renzi at 758-6507.

With the advent of cold and inclement weather comes an excellent time to clean closets, attics and cellars. Barbara Ketchell, who has the attic treasure corner, is looking for good, clean, usable used items (nothing too large please)! You can contact her at 758-6945 or leave the treasures at the rectory.

If your dreams turn to visions of sugar plums and you want to make them a reality visit our bake table. Our confectionary creations will satisfy the most gourmet tastes.

Circle December 3rd on your calendar. You never know who you'll meet at the Christmas Bazaar. We always have one celebrity the little people enjoy. He wears red, has a white beard and goes ho - ho - ho! Plan to be at the Bazaar in the P.M. to meet this famous person. If you are lucky, you may even have your picture taken with him.

We hope all of you will drop in on December 3rd. It will be a day of shopping and pleasure you will long remember.

Letter to the Editor

Last month this Department included a letter with the current water bills mailed to certain property owners in which we asked their decision on the following question: "Would you, in the interest of economy and as an owner and occupant of your own home, be willing to read your own water meter, record it on a stamped self-addressed form postcard furnished by this Department and mail it to us?"

To date we have received answers to approximately 75% of these letters with 96% indicated "yes", 2% "no", and an additional 2% unable to comply because of physical reasons. Many answers included favorable comments and helpful suggestions. Such overwhelming acceptance is most encouraging. Obviously, we should proceed with this program.

When the next meter reading is required, we plan to mail each participant a double postcard one of which will be a stamped and addressed card on which the homeowner may enter the meter reading and mail to this office. Those who have indicated a desire for initial assistance of orientation will be contacted before that time.

We would like very much to hear from those who have not yet replied. If the postcard included with our letter has been misplaced we would appreciate a telephone call (758-3551) or a note in any form.

The Board of Water Commissioners and all of the personnel of this Department wish to express sincere appreciation to those who have offered support in our efforts to control costs and water rates.

Yours respectfully,
Charles A. Morgan, Supt., Water Department, Town of Mattapoisett

G.S. Cookies

Mrs. Elaine Sylvia of 28 Pearl Street, Mattapoisett, chairman of the Girl Scout Cookie Sale in the Mattapoisett section of Aquena Service Unit of the Plymouth Bay Girl Scout Council, announced today that Girl Scouts in the area will be taking orders for Girl Scout Cookies from November 15 to November 26. The girls will deliver the cookies between December 7 and 17.

The Rochester and Acushnet area will be covered by Mrs. Therese Charest of Jason's Lane, Rochester.

Each Girl Scout troop receives twenty cents for every box sold by its members. These cookie sale proceeds constitute a large part of each troop's funds for the year. The use of the money is carefully planned by the girls and leaders to finance activities such as troop service projects, trips or camping experiences.

Cookie Sale proceeds provide the major part of Plymouth Bay Girl Scout Council's income and are essential to maintaining quality leadership and program in over 1000 Girl Scout troops in Southeastern Massachusetts. The recruiting and initial training of leaders, their ongoing support and assistance by qualified, professional staff, the maintenance of camps for troop, day and resident camping and the campership program, all depend in a large part on the Girl Scout Cookie Sale.

A portion of the funds needed to provide Girl Scouting in this community is received from the United Way of Greater New Bedford.

Y.M.C.A.

- COURSE ON TAI CHI CHUAN

The Y.M.C.A. of Greater New Bedford will introduce a course in the ancient Chinese discipline of Tai Chi Chuan, starting on Monday, November 21, from 7:00 to 8:30 P.M. for 10 weeks, according to Vincent Goglia, Physical Director.

The instructor of this ancient art is Dr. Tao-Chen Hsia, Professor of Chinese History at S.M.U. Dr. Hsia was born in China and learned Kung-Fu at the age of five. He studied with several renowned Chinese masters of Tai Chi Chuan, including Wang Shiang-Zei.

Dr. Hsia taught in France, Denmark and other countries around the world. He brings this wealth of international experience to the YMCA.

"Tai Chi Chuan can be used as a martial art. It is associated with Chinese Philosophy and is a system of forms which activate the body for the development of physical, emotional, and mental well-being," said Dr. Hsia.

"Participants experience a feeling of satisfaction and a sense of tranquility fostering good health regardless of age," concluded Dr. Hsia.

For further information call 997-0734 or visit the "Y" at 25 South Water Street, New Bedford.

New Year's Ball

MARION LIONS CLUB PLANS NEW YEAR'S BALL

Arnold Briggs, "King Lion" of the Marion

Our elves have just finished arranging our select variety of china cups and saucers. Harry loves the one in the middle because it says "To my Wife" (in gold) with lovely hand-painted flowers on either side - and - it's Jumbo size. Circa 1860-1890. To the left is a Mustache Cup and Saucer embossed with gold flowerets and "Think of Me" (inside a gold chain). Perfect for your Best Beau's handsome mustache! A really great antique, just for him. Next is a nice little hand-painted Victorian Mug with a most thoughtful inscription: "For a Gift." To the right, Joe is literally trying to carry away our hand-painted "Scuttle" Shaving Mug. He knows they are scarce and he doesn't want to let go of this one. Joe also has his eye on the "Remember Me" C&S, heavily embossed w/gold on a lovely soft rose background. Joe says, if they are really going to have a "Mother-in-Law's Day", his deserves the best. (We knew you'd like Joe, even if he never says another word.)

All items mint condition and subject to prior sale.
